References

Two references must be provided. If you will be requesting a leave or sabbatical from your current position in order to participate in Malaysia Sustainable Cities Program, one reference must be provided by your supervising director or head of department.

All references should express the scholarly and professional reasons for endorsing your candidacy as a Visiting Scholar in the MIT-UTM Malaysia Sustainable Cities Program, paying particular attention to your record of teaching and research in one or more of these areas of inquiry: socially and environmentally sustainable infrastructure development; governance and strategies for public engagement; indicators for measuring sustainability; historic preservation and urban design; coastal and marine resource management; resilience of environmentally protected areas; eco-tourism; affordable housing; public transportation; and high-tech job creation. References may also specify the ways in which your involvement in the MIT-UTM MSCP are expected to contribute to your organization's educational mission.

References should e-mail a PDF of their signed & dated letter to malaysiacities@mit.edu. The deadline for all application materials, including references, is March 1, 2016.
